STATE HISTORICAL GROUP TO VISIT WITT HOME, MUSEUM TOMORROW

PORTERVILLE - Historians from throughout California will be in Porterville tomorrow, Friday, to visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Witt and to also view Porterville's museum.

At the Witt home they will see the excellent collection of Indian artifact that Mr. and Mrs. Witt have assembled through the years, also their collection of antique glass and old bottles.

Members of the group will be conducted through the Porterville museum to show what a small town can do in the historical field when there is real interest in historical projects.

Hosts for the visitors while in Porterville will be members of Tule Vista Chapter, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and representatives of the Porterville chamber of commerce.

The historians will gather in Visalia February 23-24 for 10th Southern California Historical Symposium, with meetings set for The Lamplighter, and College of the Sequoias.

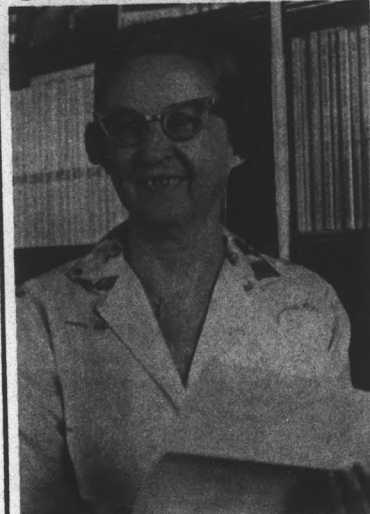

Among Tulare county historians who will be on the program are: Joe Doctor, who will speak on, "The Kaweah Colony;" Annie Mitchell, who will discuss, "Major James Savage, Founder of Tulare County;" and Roy McLain,

HEART SUNDAY

PORTERVILLE - Some 600 workers, including 4-H club members, will take the field this weekend for door-to-door Heart Sunday solicitation to raise money for research in the field of heart diseases. Heading up the southeastern Tulare county drive is Waltraut Wilson.

ON STATE BOARD

APPOINTED THIS week by Governor Ronald Reagan to the California Public Library Development board was Chris Lalanne, of Porterville, a member of the Porterville City Library board for five years. She will serve on the nine-member advisory board to the State librarian until October 1, 1970. The board is composed of three lay members, three librarians, and three members of library governing board. Mrs. Lalanne was informed of her appointment through the office of State Senator Howard Way.

'TIS THE SEASON FOR HORSE SHOWS, FOUR, IN FACT, DURING NEXT MONTH

PORTERVILLE - 'Tis the season for horse shows hereabouts, what with four of them coming up within the next month - three scheduled for Porterville, and one for Tulare.

In order of dates, they shape up like this: Next Saturday, and Sunday February 24, and 25 the Central California Appaloosa Horse club will present its 9th annual San Joaquin Valley Appaloosa and Open show and annual sale at the Tulare County Fair Grounds.

On Sunday, March 3, the First Annual Success Spring Gymkhana will be held at the Porterville Fair Horse Show arena.

On Sunday, March 10, the Central California Cutting Club of Clovis will stage a cutting horse show, also at the Porterville Fair grounds.

On Sunday, March 24, the Porterville Canterbelles will hold their eighth annual show at the Rocky Hill arena, east of Porterville.

Appaloosa Show

TULARE - Racing, performance classes for all ages, and halter classes will be featured in the 9th Annual San Joaquin Valley Appaloosa and Open Horse show, and annual sale, at the Tulare County Fair grounds in Tulare, Saturday and Sunday, February 24-25.

Five hundred entries are expected; the public is invited, free of charge.

A chicken barbecue will be served on the fair grounds Saturday night by members of the Visalia Sportsmen's association.

Confusion, Confusion, Confusion Out Of Which Comes More Confusion

ALONG THE EMIGRANT TRAIL - In spite of stalwart efforts by the permanent wagon master of the Jackass Mail, namely, W. B. Rodgers, confusion is running rampant amidst confusion as the March 30 date for the seventh running of the Mail groweth ever closer.

Head Scout Walt Pratt was last reported at Pierpoint riding off in all directions; Head Teamster Domer Power was last seen in a political meeting at Sacramento; Shotgun Guard Whit Whitfield is still looking for his firing pin that he lost last year.

Blacksmith Hank McEwan was last seen wrangling wild horses at Daunt; Col. Robert C. Natzke, CSA, Ret., is getting himself fitted to a new cast so that it will be ready when needed; Trailblazer Tom Masonheimer is locked inside his own camper with no keys; Teamster Larry Gill is still trying to catch the mules that ran away last February; and members of the 1st Tule River Battery Cannon crew, specifically Capt. Marty Martin, Lt. Loren McDonald, and Pfc Jack Lucey, are down in the Tule swamps hiding their beardless faces in shame.

Fortunately a few cool heads are still cool. Ben Lyon, the wandering minstrel, is plucking his banjo

OREN O'NEILL IS CANDIDATE

PORTERVILLE - Oren G. O'Neill, Porterville attorney, planned to file his declaration of intention today in Sacramento to seek the Democrat nomination for the office of State Assemblyman of Tulare and Kings counties, a position now held by Gordon Duffy, of Hanford, a Republican.

CARSON ODE, artist at Josten's, is not only growing a beard for the Jackass Mail run, March 30, but he has also created a new-issue stamp, shown at left, for the seventh running of the mail. The stamps, printed in red, white and black, will go on sale in Porterville at such time and place as committee members is able to ascertain. Original Jackass Mail stamp was created in 1962 by Bill Reece.

NEW BATCH of Magic Elixir is being run off by Doc Small (Gene Duncan) in anticipation of an appearance of the Jackass Mail Medicine show at the Whiskey Flat celebration parade, Saturday morning. The copper still, recently donated to the Porterville museum was made in San Francisco in 1906, and was reportedly used locally during prohibition days of the roaring 20s. Joining the good doctor at Whiskey Flat will be a stalwart group of entertainers, frontiersmen, and saddle bums.

WORDS OF WISDOM

LAWS MADE BY COMMON CONSENT MUST NOT BE TRAMPLED ON BY INDIVIDUALS.

AROUND THE HORN

Two years ago young William J. Bianchi wrote a note, put it in a small wine bottle, sealed the vessel and sent it on its way down the currents of Papermill Creek near his home in Marin County.

The note said: "I'm just curious where it will end up."

He found out recently when it was picked up on a Florida beach and returned to him, presumably having drifted down the Pacific coast and either through the Panama Canal or around turbulent Cape Horn.

Some cynics among us are more inclined to feel some romantic soul picked it up closer to home and entrusted it to the U.S. mails instead. The delivery time sounds just about right.

California cabbage production for 1968 is estimated at 12 per cent above last year.

Dethorning and cleanup is underway in Coachella valley date gardens.

COTTON GROWERS may not have had the best year in their farm lives, but members of the Tulare County Cotton Wives Auxiliary are "up and at 'em" in their continued promotion of cotton products, with their latest effort being the production of a "Cavalcade of Cotton," as a feature of the women's section of the First Annual California Field and Row Crop Equipment show this month in Tulare. Modelling all-cotton dresses in the Cavalcade were, top photo, from left, back: Mesdames Greg Shannon, of Tulare; George Grassel, of Visalia; Dale Hillman, of Tulare; and Dana Slaughter, of Tulare. Front, from left: Miss Jackie Terrell, Terri Lee Scialo, and Barbara Middleton, of Tulare; Mrs. Robert Middleton, of Tulare, and Mrs. Manuel Faria Jr., of Tipton. In lower photo, from left: Mrs. Roscoe Honeycutt, commentator for the Cavalcade; Miss Pamela Sue Weber, 1968 Tulare County Maid of Cotton; and Mrs. R.V. Fallert, president of the County Cotton Wives Auxiliary. Wardrobes for the models came from the National Cotton Council, and were made from McCall patterns. The Maid of Cotton, who participated in the Cavalcade, is available for appearances at community events and organizations throughout Tulare county during 1968, with bookings arranged through Mrs. Fallert or Mrs. Honeycutt. The "Cavalcade of Cotton" is also available for presentation, with season styles featured, however, reservation must be made well in advance of a proposed show date. (Farm Tribune photo)

The mocking birds are back, the sun is sometimes shining, the fish are getting hungry at Success, and the blooms are covering the fruit trees. All this means that the spraying and pruning need to be finished and the joy of spring gardening begun.

You don't need to be an avid gardener to enjoy it. If one rose bush or one tomato fulfills the instinct that surfaces each spring then forget the rest and purchase that one plant. Of course you'll also need one hot cap, one sack of fertilizer, one can of dust, one stake, some string, a package of fruitone, one pound of snail bait, a little nemotode poison, and possibly a shovel or trowel. Having purchased all these you may need to buy an extra tomato plant to recoup your losses.

Color may be added to your yard with primrose that are blooming now - petunias that will bloom soon - and such things as ivy, geranium, Marguerettes, carnation, cyclamen, azaleas, and camellias. These are so pretty they would brighten anyone's day and you're welcome to just come by and feast your eyes without the necessity of purchasing any. We're on "E" Street north of Olive.

WHAT'S DOING?

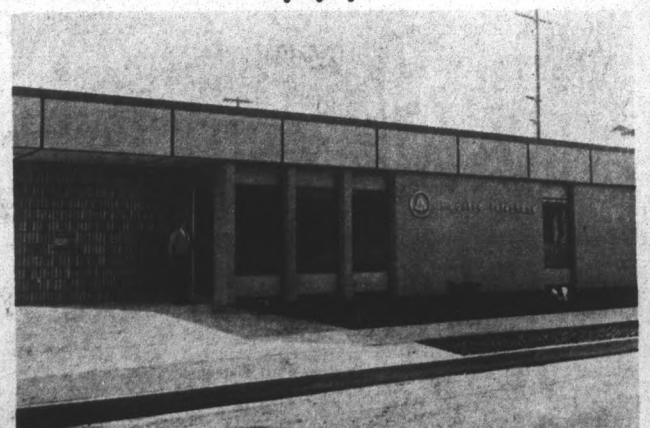

Did you know that the average family in the United States moves once every five years?

When your moving day comes you can make sure — with just one call — that your phone service is the last thing out of your old home and the first thing into your new home. It doesn't matter whether you're moving to a nearby town or across the country — you can take advantage of this service anywhere in the nationwide Bell System.

We call it the Easy Move Plan and this service comes to you at no extra charge. To arrange for your new phone just call your local Business Office and ask your Service Representative about the Easy Move Plan. We're here to help.

Here's an inexpensive and practical item you'll want to know about. It's a separate, personal listing in the telephone directory for various members of your household. These listings are particularly helpful if anyone in your home has a last name that's different from yours. Each additional name listed in the directory is only 35¢ a month. For information, call your local Business Office.

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

Darlings, I could care less. I don't care what group should get the credit for making and sending the lap robes to OUR MEN in the hospitals. For goodness sakes, who cares. The reason I wrote about it was because I thought you would like to help. Chris didn't tell me about it because she wanted to get her name in this famous column. She really thought you would like to spend your spare time doing something constructive. The men need the robes. Chris doesn't need any pats on the head from me. Ronnie is doing that. If you think I am going around wringing my hands because I didn't give credit where credit was due, you, my luv, are barking up the wrong tree. I didn't write about the robes to put your names in the paper. I thought others would like to do something for OUR COUNTRY. My heart bleeds for you. I think.

And another thing. Don't call me and take pot shots at Peggy Cole. Call her. She can take care of herself, and if you think you can do her job better why don't you try. Of course it would cut into your bridge and golf, but you could try. I, for one, am glad Peggy thinks enough of OUR TOWN to go to all those meetings and study all that stuff and do something about trees and things. Of course, I too would like to sit surrounded by handsome men and look beautiful, but you have to be smart too. Don't let 'em bother you Peg. I'll bet Lady Bird has the same trouble.

Our daughter is skiing at St. Moritz this week-end. Oh, to be a wealthy school teacher in Europe. I wonder if Jean-Claude would like to give her some lessons in going down hill. On second thought, forget it Jean-Claude. Wasn't the coverage of the Winter Olympics great this year? Imagine the dedication that went into all those skills.

OUR TOWN is having a blooming time. Just over night things started to bloom everywhere. My favorite is Daphne, and our bush is covered with the delicious bloom.

Bill and Bea Baucom's pride and joy arrived at midnight, and Bea wouldn't let Bill call me. It was just as well. I'm not at my best at midnight. But I rushed out the next day. What a thrill for me. I had never seen a day-old Arabian beauty. Now I know what people have been trying to tell me. When I learned to ride, the riding master was more interested in "my seat" than telling me what kind of a horse I was riding. Now I know a purebred Arabian when I see one, thanks to Bill and Bea.

Happiness is Spring just around the corner.

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

FOUR MASKED men move in and take $100,000 from the First National bank at gunpoint. In the course of events they pump a few slugs into a few people and leave two dead bank employees. To cover their getaway they toss a fire bomb through the front door of the bank as they leave. Police get on their trail and, in a shoot-out at point-blank range, kill all four of the robbers. In this situation, the police officers would no doubt be praised for their courage and their efficient action in enforcing the law and protecting the rights of private citizens.

FOUR HUNDRED negroes, plus 4,000 more, stirred into unreason by professional agitators, storm a business district, loot stores, set fires, direct sniper fire at police and firemen who are under orders to treat these rioters kindly while they create $100,000,000 worth of damage, and, with an assist from a contingent of renegade whites, turn what was once a business district into an area of devastation.

WHILE THE flames are still hot and the loot is still being loaded into cars, civil rights shysters start their screaming about police brutality, and the eggheads with the IQs and little else who have all the questions but few of the answers, tie this mob action into a failure of society, lack of education,

VARIETY OF FARM ACTIVITY IN COUNTY

VISALIA - A variety of farm activities are underway in Tulare county, according to the weekly report from the office of Elvin O. Mankins, agricultural commissioner.

Navel orange harvest for the fresh market is moving slowly, with a large amount of frost-damaged fruit going to processors; fruit drop is heavy.

Small grains are doing better, what with warmer weather and some rain; tomatoes are being planted under white caps; vineyard poverty, rat infestations, no jobs, no opportunity, no recreation facilities, discrimination, and whatever else comes to mind as an alibi for lawlessness.

WE FAIL to see the difference between the bank robbers and the mob rioters. Both are defying law and order; both are creating great property damage; both are involved in murder; both, if allowed to roam the streets unchecked, will eventually change our state of democracy into a state of anarchy.

AND, UNFORTUNATELY, we are afraid the solution to riots, looting, burning and murder in the implementation of mob violence is the same solution as in the case of bank robbers - a shoot-out at point-blank range.

WE'VE HAD enough of the civil rights shysters, enough of the sob-sister eggheads, enough of the alibis, enough of civil disobedience, enough of looting, murder and destruction.

AMERICA CANNOT afford further mass riots, regardless of the purported causes. Sufficient force must be thrown against mobs to stop them. We mean stop them cold. And permanently.

AFTER THAT, and meanwhile, we must continue our attempts to improve the application of "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" in America by use of brains, imagination, initiative, desire, and old fashioned guts.

TRYING TO appease the rabble rousers and rioters is not the answer. At least it is not the American answer.

COTTON GROWERS

FRESNO - Annual meeting of the Western Cotton Growers association is being held today, Thursday, at the Hacienda hotel, in Fresno.

pruning is continuing; some Emperor grapes are still being shipped out of storage; planting of sugar beets is continuing; rangeland conditions are reported as "good," but more rain and warm weather would help.

Time Out

By Davis Harp

SO WHAT'S EUROPE GOT THAT WE SHOULD FAWN OVER?

Cliff Richey said it and he was right. The embattled 21 year old was struggling Friday in the U. S. National Indoor Tennis championships against Denmark's Jan Leschley when he noticed that the crowd was cheering uproariously for the Dane. The Texan became furious and smashed Leschley to move into the championship finals. After the match Richey snarled to the press, "This is the only country in the world where they cheer against the home man."

He was right. The fawning attitude of Americans is sometimes a sickening thing. Cliff Richey was the home team, baby, but the blue-nosed tennis crowd championed the Dane because we Americans have never gotten over the feeling that things European are, by nature, better.

Europe has been there an awfully long time not to have gotten off the dime. It is a continent of critics. They offer no answers, but they can point out an error with the speed of a French army retreat. And that's moving, man. Let's take a look at this continent whose opinion we value so greatly. The only thing that has happened there in the past 50 years that is of any interest was two world wars. And we had to go over and win them. Then we picked the whole damn joint up, brushed it off, kissed its hurts, and put it back in business. I mean, we really need these guys.

What are we ashamed of? In the words of the kids, America is where it's at. This is where it is happening and it has been happening here for nearly 200 years. It is about time that we wake up and start to realize it. Europe contributed a huge amount of knowledge, but it was in America that it was refined, and put together and it was here that it was made to work. Why must we forever apologize? What can they tell us in Europe that we don't really already know? I mean, it's a nice place to visit, but it isn't Los Angeles. You can tell by the plumbing.

But listen Cliff Richey, you haven't seen anything yet. Wait until the Archduke of Barf gets here. Then you're really going to burn. This guy is really something. He isn't a Jonas Salk (Jonas who?), but the silks of his racing stable are seen at all the better European tracks. That isn't much but it will be good enough for a 26 city American tour, with the red carpet treatment in each one. Good old insecure America.

CHILDREN ASKED TO SELECT FAIR THEME

TULARE - Elementary school children, grades four through eight, have been invited to submit theme ideas for the 1968 Tulare County fair. Deadline for entry at the Tulare County Fair office is February 23; a $50 bond will be awarded to the student whose Fair theme is selected.

Some 500 Afghan white-winged pheasants have been released along the Colorado river near Blythe. They were raised at the Vacaville game farm.

BULLHORN RULING STILL STANDS

SAN FRANCISCO - Tulare county's anti-bullhorn ordinance that made it illegal to speak through an amplifier from a moving vehicle without a permit will stand as unconstitutional. The State Supreme Court has denied an appeal of a lower court ruling establishing the ordinance as illegal. The case originally got into court - the Visalia Municipal court, when Farm Labor Leader Cesar Chavez was arrested for violating the ordinance.

Uniform Accounting Is Step Closer

SACRAMENTO - "Uniform accounting and financial reporting for California's 3,650 special districts has moved a step closer," according to State Controller Houston I. Flournoy, "with the adoption of two more accounting systems - one for transit districts and the other for 'non-utility' districts."

The transit system affects a relatively few large districts and will be effective July 1, 1968. "Non-utility" districts consist of fire, cemetery, memorial, mosquito, park soil conservation and numerous other types, comprising more than 2,000 of the total districts. This system will take effect on July 1, 1969.

In 1963 the Legislature enacted a law which required the State Controller to prescribe uniform accounting for all special districts, except school districts, subject to approval by the Controller's Advisory Committee on Reports of Financial Transactions.

This seven member Advisory Committee has been working for two and a half years with the special districts and the Controller's office in developing suitable accounting systems for a segment of local government which in the 1965-66 fiscal year expended more than $570 million.

EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN SET

VISALIA - The 1968 Easter Seal fund appeal to finance services for Tulare county's crippled children and adults will begin March 1 and continue through Easter Sunday, April 14. In 1967 the Easter Seal Society for Tulare county assisted 289 persons with physical handicaps.

CHAIRMAN OF the Tulare County 1968 Easter Seal campaign is Thomas P. Boyer, of Visalia, whose appointment was announced this week by Dr. Wesley D. Price, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children in Tulare county, an affiliate of the national Easter Seal organization. Contributions to the drive, headed by Boyer, will be used to continue and expand the society's services to physically handicapped children and adults living in Tulare county. (Ward's Studio photo)

TED GREENWELL, CHIEF ENGINEER FOR BRISTOW HELICOPTERS IN ENGLAND IS PORTERVILLE VISITOR

By Terry Bergfalk

PORTERVILLE - A first time visitor to the United States and to Sierra Aviation last week was W. E. (Ted) Greenwell, chief engineer for the world's largest helicopter company, Bristow Helicopters Ltd. at Surrey, England.

Greenwell, who formerly served with Her Majesty's Royal Navy, states that "Americans, and especially the people in Porterville, are astonishingly friendly and hospitable." He enjoyed four days here, including a visit to the famed Mountain Lion Saloon where he met members of the Jackass Mail; and a flight and auto tour of Sierra National Forest and Park.

He explained the main reason for his visit was for a mutual understanding "between our two countries," and to view the massive spare parts stock at Sierra Aviation. At present Bristow is involved in the British Army Aviation training program where pilots are first trained in small winged aircraft for 60 hours then given an equal amount in the ABC models of Hiller Helicopter.

Among the company's other projects in which their pilots fly from the smallest Hillers to the largest Sikorskys is the surveying of natural gas off the North Sea as well as oil work in the Persian Gulf and South America.

Greenwell, while in America, also paid visits to the Hiller plant in Maryland, and spent more time in Washington, D. C. and New York City. He says "there is a bigger language barrier than one thinks between we British and you Americans, as there is usually a double take in the course of words and their meanings."

He also states he prefers the small town, to the larger cities, where people are really friendly.

TED GREENWELL, chief engineer for the world's largest helicopter company, Bristow Helicopters Ltd., at Surrey, England, was a visitor in Porterville last week to work out business transactions with Sierra Aviation at the Porterville Municipal airport. He also met a number of Porterville folks, visited the National forest and Sequoia park, and even joined the Jackass Mail group at the Mountain Lion saloon. Shown with him is Terry Bergfalk, Sierra Aviation photographer and valley news woman. (Sierra Aviation photo) with complete unconcern; Carson Ode has created the new Jackass Mail stamp, which will go on sale next week; Ron Perrone has finished design work for Jackass Mail public notices that will be posted in due course of time; and Doc Small is running off a new batch of his Magic Elixir, good for man or beast.

Members of the Tulare County Cow Belles are out digging pits to barbecue beef that they will serve for lunch along the River trail during the Mail run; and Allan Coates has designed a new lock for the Jackass Mail treasury.

And up Springville way, Dick Coon, new president of the Springville chamber of commerce, is setting up

Cutting Horses

PORTERVILLE - A highly competitive show with entries from throughout the San Joaquin valley is shaping up for Porterville on March 10, when the Central California Cutting club of Clovis stages its Porterville Cutting Horse show in the Porterville Fair Grounds arena. Rain date is March 17.

Only club members - of which there are now about 200 - are eligible to compete, however memberships will be accepted up to and including show day. The event is a benefit for Future Farmer and 4-H programs in connection with the Porterville fair.

Ten classes have been set up, with Bob Mettler of Bakersfield as judge. Competitive classes are a gala reception for arrival of the Mail, complete with a festive dinner menu of Tule river catfish.

To all of which nothing can be added at the present time.

lined out so that cutting horses in all stages of training, from beginners to open class, will compete in their own class.

Handling local show arrangements are Dan Mahnke and Ray Jones. Burton 4-H club members will serve food on the grounds.

Canterbelle Show

PORTERVILLE - Entries are now being accepted for the eighth annual Porterville Canterbelle horse show to be held March 24 at the Rocky Hill arena five miles east of Porterville.

A junior high point show approved by the California State Horsemen's association, the show will include English, Western and Gymkhana events. Trophies (no ribbons) will be presented to the first five places in each event.

Jack George of Fresno will be the judge.

First events will begin at 9 a.m. with gymkhana events scheduled for in the afternoon. Age divisions will be 13 years and under and 14 years and over. There will be also some open classes, including both novice and open jumpers.

Entry blanks are available by writing to the show secretary, Joan Woody, P. O. Box 756, Strathmore. Entry fees are $2 per class and $3 post entry. Kyle Hill of Porterville is show chairman.

Rain date is March 31. Admission is free.

who will speak on "The Orange Has A History Too."

Introducing Miss Mitchell will be Rodney Homer, of Porterville.

Also on the program will be Mrs. Lillian Wiggins, curator of the El Monte museum, whose husband is the great grandson of the founder of Visalia, Nat Vise.

In general charge of local arrangements, and presiding host for the symposium is Dr. Edgar Smith, president of the Tulare County Historical society.
